A New 'School'

Although it may not look like it, South Coast Repertory is a school as well as a theatre. There are all kinds of theatre classes — from acting to writing — taught here almost every day of the year! And that doesn't take into account the learning experiences offered by virtually every play we stage during our season.

This month, we are a proud home to the craziest school ever imagined. That's because Louis Sachar's Sideways Stories from Wayside School has been adapted by our friend John Olive into a great play. And we're excited to have it in a wonderful new production directed by Stefan Novinski as the second show in our first Theatre for Young Audiences . . . and Their Families season.

But that's not all! While Sideways Stories is on the Julianne Argyros Stage and our Young Conservatory is in full swing in our classrooms, our new musical about California history, The Pride of Weedpatch Camp, could be on the road to your school. Thanks to a great group of actors directed by John-David Keller, this endearing new show will be giving Southern California elementary school students some extra understanding about how our state came to be.

We can't do it by ourselves, though. We must take a moment to thank the wonderful companies that have made all this possible. Helping us produce Sideways Stories from Wayside School (and providing all the free seats for students of the Santa Ana Unified School District) are First American and the Santa Ana Education Foundation. And, putting the petrol in our touring tank are The Boeing Company and The Capital Group Companies Charitable Foundation.

Meet Louis Sachar

As a writer of books for elementary school students, Louis Sachar tries to recall what it felt like for him to be that age. That is because he thinks kids are basically the same now as they were when he was young. For instance, when Mr. Sachar turned 9, his family moved from New York to Orange County, California—Tustin, to be exact—which at that time was a rural area thick with citrus groves. He and his friends would divide up into teams and using "ammo" that was hanging in the trees, they'd have orange fights on their way home from school. He remembers that his experience in Little League made him into a real "orange warrior."

While studying at UC Berkeley, Mr. Sachar discovered that he could earn college credit by becoming a teacher's aide—no homework, no tests, no term papers. All he had to do was watch over a bunch of kids at Hillside Elementary School. So he became a Noontime Supervisor—also known as "Louis the Yard Teacher." What became his favorite college class turned into a life-changing experience.

He didn't like any of the stories his

students were reading, so he decided to try writing a children's book of his own. Hillside Elementary became the inspiration for his first manuscript, Sideways Stories from Wayside School, whose characters are all named after the kids he knew at Hillside. He insists this book was the most fun for him to write because at the time, writing was still just a hobby. Much to his surprise, however, Sideways was accepted for publication during his first week in law school and although he went on to earn his law degree and pass the bar exam, it was becoming clear that writing was his first career choice. By 1989, his books began selling well enough that he was finally able to stop lawyering and start writing full time.

Today, Mr. Sachar lives in Austin, Texas, with wife Carla, daughter Sherre, and dogs Lucky and Tippy. He loves them all, but only Lucky and Tippy are allowed to be in the office with him when he's writing.

ELISA BOCANEGRA (Bebe)

Kevin is excited to be making his SCR debut as part of the Theatre for Young Audiences production of Sideways Stories. He's been performing a lot on stage, in film and on television since graduating from UC San Diego. You may have seen him in guest starring roles on "Judging Amy," "Moesha" and "Well of

WENDY JOHNSON (Leslie)

If your family has attended SCR's La Posada Mágica in recent years, then you've seen Sol in the role of Refugio, the young posadero who finally gets his chance to sing the show-stopping number "Lovin' Santa." That isn't his only singing credit, however. He played the title role in D and the world premiere of Sonnets for an Old Century with Greenway Court Theatre. After graduating from New York University and Circle in the Square, Wendy appeared in many Off and Off-Off Broadway shows including The Love Family vs. Andy Kaufman at HERE and Collateral Damage at LaMaMa. She has appeared in the films The Medicine Story, Break a Leg, Just Visiting and Marisa, Where Art Thou? and the TV shows "Providence," "America Laughs" and "The Slow Norris."

played the title role in Bye, Bye Birdie and appeared in Damn Yankees, West Side Story and Buy, Buy Navidad. Other theatre roles include The Hollow Lands at SCR, Noche De Risa Y Susto at the Mark Taper Forum and the national tour of Veteranos: A Tribute. He was featured in the television film The Alamo: 13 Days and "Resurrection Blvd." His films include High Riders and Graffiti. Sol dedicates his performance to Jenny and Amada, for their love.

SOL CASTILLO (Dameon)

Elisa's latest film is Sheriff, where she plays the world's zaniest librarian Betty Bonheuser. It can be currently seen at film festivals. Elisa's TV credits include "Judging Amy," "NYPD Blue," "The Gilmore Girls," "Touched by an Angel," "Taina, Undeclared" and "Resurrection Blvd." Elisa is a singer from New York City and writes children's plays for the Silvertake Conservatory of Music in Los Angeles.

KEVIN BERNTSON (Myron)

ANY, MONK and Will & Grace." His theatre credits range from the classic, like Shakespeare (Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, Love's Labour's Lost), to the never-before-seen, like Diana Son's Boy at La Jolla Playhouse. Kevin also enjoys work in improv, having trained with the Groundlings, and he can be seen at the ACME Comedy Theatre Bravo! Company in Los Angeles.

More Faculty, Staff and Class

You should remember Louis from The Emperor's New Clothes, in which he played the Swindler. What he remembers were two life-changing moments when he was 7. "My father took me to a production of Peter Pan," he says. "And he read me a book about the life of Houdini. I knew I wanted to be a part of something magical. From then on, all I dreamt about was either becoming an actor or an escape artist. My older brothers 'helped' me practice escapes by tying me up with rope in the most difficult of knots. Left helpless for hours, struggling to free myself without success, I decided maybe I'd make a better actor instead." Louis has performed in theatres across the U.S. and has helped introduce Shakespeare to students from non-wayside schools in Northern California. He also can be seen with Mary Kate and Ashley Olsen in their Fashion Show Party video.

LOUIS LOTORTO (Louis)

MELANIE LORA (Rondi)

Although this is Melanie's first show at SCR, she has appeared in numerous productions in L.A., primarily at The Actors' Gang. Notable roles were in Tim Robbins' staging of Embedded and in Moscow, Medea/Macbeth/Cinderella, Foursome and as Nina in The Seagull. She was featured in AMC's film "The Westmores" and you should watch for her later this season on TV's "The Gilmore Girls." She has appeared in several films including The United States of Leland, The Eleventh Hour, The Money Shot and Self Storage.

Howard is a familiar face to those families who have attended South Coast Repertory's A Christmas Carol since it began in 1980. Originally playing Young Ebenezer, he has now played Scrooge's nephew Fred for many years. Before that, he made several trips to local schools as part of the early SCR touring productions and even contributed his own play, The People vs. B.B. Wolf, to SCR's Young Conservatory, where it was produced twice. In addition to his many stage roles, he appears in movies and on television. He has been in episodes of "Frasier," "Star Trek: Deep Space Nine," and "Wings," as well as the daytime dramas "One Life to Live," "Days of Our Lives" and "The Bold and the Beautiful." Among his film roles are parts in Raging Angels, The Fantastic Four and What I Did for Love. Howard dedicates his performance to the memory of "Pegma" Linton, an inspiring teacher and beloved friend.

HOWARD SHANGRAW (Mrs. Gorf, etc.)

Once upon a time, in first grade Peter Wellie gave Jodi a kiss. "I didn't have to do anything for it and I'll never forget it. Acting started whenever there was a class play and I went to Catholic school. In 5th grade Mrs. Kolb made us learn "Eldorado" by Edgar Allen Poe and I'll never forget it. In 8th grade, my teacher allowed me to show leadership by putting me in charge of my acting class so I could direct and star in some Carol Burnett skits. I'll never forget it. I then branched out into community theater and did four plays as a young adult: The Emperor's New Clothes, The Drunkard, Night of the Iguana and Bad Habits in St. Cloud, Minnesota. I then decided to go professional and attended The Children's Theater Company in Minneapolis. They make magic and I will never forget it. I moved to California in my Senior Year of High School (STAY IN SCHOOL!!!!) and studied with Carol Locatell and Don Eitner at The American Theater Arts in Hollywood. I met Arthur Penn and he directed the movie I starred in called Four Friends. I was 18 and I'll never forget it. Now I learn most everything from my daughter Samm. I forgot more than she knows. Special thanks to Howard."

JODI THELEN (Mrs. Jewls)

Director STEFAN NOVINSKI began directing in kindergarten with a puppet show of Jack and the Beanstalk. Recent theatre L.A. credits include Wilder's Skin of Our Teeth and As I Lay Dying. His productions have earned critical notice and theatre awards. Before moving to L.A. he was the associate producer of the Big D Festival of the Unexpected at the Dallas Theatre Center. He and his wife Donna Marquet just had their first child.

Set Designer DONNA MARQUET is designing all three Theatre for Young Audience productions this inaugural season. She loves to design, draw, paint and especially likes to work on shows that are as much fun as Sideway Stories from Wayside School. Her background includes college in Ohio and a Master's degree in California and she feels "Education is the most important gift you can give yourself."

Romanian-born Costume Designer ANGELA BALOGH CALIN has designed the recent productions of Terra Nova and The Emperor's New Clothes, and the currently touring Pride of Weedpatch Camp (watch for it coming to your school!).

Lighting Designer TAMMY OWENS SLAUSON designed the SCR Players productions of The Wheels Keep Turning and The Weather Started Getting Rough. She has created designs for plays, musicals, operas and dance across America. Among her favorites are a touring production of Live On Stage Uncensored for the Kentucky Arts Council and Dream the Future for the International Girl Scout Festival of the Arts.

Sound Designer DREW DALZELL is happy to be doing his first show at SCR. He loves to play with sound and make noise in the theatre, and thinks it's the coolest thing in the world that it's his job to do just that. His background includes going to school for theatre in Washington and a Master's Degree in Ohio. He's happy to be working with his mentor, Michael Hooker, who composed the music for Sideways Stories.

Originally from Richmond, Virginia, Stage Manager ERIN NELSON* is thrilled to be in California and working with SCR again following her first job here with The Emperor's New Clothes. She has also worked for La Jolla Playhouse, the Old Globe Theatre, Idaho Shakespeare Festival and Theatre IV.

After 40 seasons onstage, SCR Founding Artist MARTHA McFARLAND (Assistant Stage Manager) is proud and excited to be backstage with the people who "run the show." An avid reader, she is pleased to be working on a show based on Louis Sachar's novels.
