How We Keep Christmas

BY JERRY PATCH

This year’s revival of Charles Dickens’ A Christmas Carol is SCR’s 27th staging of the play. With each renewal it has become more of a tradition both for this theatre and for Orange County. And, as with any tradition, it changes and it stays the same.

Since we began, Hal Landon Jr. has played Ebenezer Scrooge, and John-David Keller has been our director. SCR founding members Richard Doyle, Art Koustik, Martha McFarland and Don Took have reprised their parts in virtually every season.

John Ellington, who played Bob Cratchit for nearly 20 years, is now the Rev. Dr. John Ellington, pastor of Los Alamitos Congregational Church. David Whalen replaced him for several seasons, returned east with his family and took up the role of Bob at Hartford Stage Company. Daniel Blinkoff, a protean actor in recent SCR shows, is our current Cratchit.

Noreen Hennessey, Marilyn Fox, and Devon Raymond all spent years in their turns as Mrs. Cratchit. This year Jennifer Parsons, a long-term member of SCR's creative family, returns for her third run in the role.

The actors in the younger roles have changed more frequently because they outgrow them (save for our ageless Fred: Howard Shangraw). And the children change every year, but they almost always come from SCR’s Young Conservatory program, which supplies important new generations to our ever-evolving family.

Cliff Faulkner’s original design has been augmented and rejuvenated annually, but the essential spirit of it remains. Original costumer Dwight Richard Odle oversees the redesigning or enhancement of the period clothing each year. Tom and Donna Ruzika, who did the lighting design for the first production, are doing the 27th. Our senior technician, Jon Lagerquist, has done technical direction since 1985.

And though the sound design has changed, elements of the first one, a glorious collection of music of the season beautifully woven through the production by Stephen Shaffer, remain. A terrific sound designer who years ago died suddenly and young, Steve lingers in music and memory for those of us who knew him.

While so many of the original contributors and elements have stayed, the show has advanced from our first 1980 production into a genuine treasure. The artists involved and their performances have grown as they built distinguished careers in the theatre. Each year they search for a better way.
a search enriched by years of craft and invention. It’s a great story we’re telling, one we don’t take lightly.

We’ve been a family. We’ve added and subtracted from our core — like any family — for 27 years. We gather annually in November to do our work — better than we’ve ever done it, we hope. New folks are made kin by our veterans; the veterans are invigorated by the newcomers. By December we’ve recreated our clan (and our show) anew.

But we’re not complete until joined by our greater family: our audiences. There are a few people who have seen the show every year since 1980. And second-and third-generation offspring of those first audiences have now taken up the tradition. SCR’s A Christmas Carol has endured here because it brings families together. We are reminded to celebrate the season and to consider together Ebenezer Scrooge’s redemption, and how, to some degree, each year it should be our own.

Human mortality pervades A Christmas Carol. The deaths of Marley and Fan, the Ghosts, and the possible passing of Tiny Tim further darken the suffering of the poor and the Cratchits’ lean Christmas. These are the shadows to be dispelled by the light of love and the season’s spirit in Dickens’ classic.

The value of love, life and family is heightened by the fact that they don’t last forever. It is the equation Scrooge comes to know, and one our family appreciates again each year.

Oh! But he was a tight-fisted hand at the grindstone, Scrooge! A squeezing, wrenching, grasping, scraping, clutching, covetous, old sinner! Hard and sharp as flint, from which no steel had ever struck out generous fire; secret, and self-contained, and solitary as an oyster. The cold within him froze his old features, nipped his pointed nose, shrivelled his cheek, stiffened his gait; made his eyes red, his thin lips blue; and spoke out shrewdly in his grating voice. A frosty rime was on his head, and on his eyebrows, and his wiry chin. He carried his own low temperature always about with him; he iced his office in the dog-days; and didn’t thaw it one degree at Christmas.

External heat and cold had little influence on Scrooge. No warmth could warm, no wintry weather chill him. No wind that blew was bitterer than he, no falling snow was more intent upon its purpose, no pelting rain less open to entreaty. Foul weather didn’t know where to have him. The heaviest rain, and snow, and hail, and sleet, could boast of the advantage over him in only one respect. They often “came down” handsomely, and Scrooge never did.

Nobody ever stopped him in the street to say, with gladsome looks, “My dear Scrooge, how are you? When will you come to see me?” No beggars implored him to bestow a trifle, no children asked him what it was o’clock, no man or woman ever once in all his life inquired the way to such and such a place, of Scrooge. Even the blind men’s dogs appeared to know him; and when they saw him coming on, would tug their owners into doorways and up courts; and then would wag their tails as though they said, “No eye at all is better than an evil eye, dark master!”

But what did Scrooge care! It was the very thing he liked. To edge his way along the crowded paths of life, warning all human sympathy to keep its distance, was what the knowing ones call “nuts” to Scrooge.

- Excerpt from A Christmas Carol
Prime Minister Lord Melbourne (1779-1848) did not care for Charles Dickens (1812-1870). By the mid 1800s, Dickens had achieved widespread fame with the publications of The Pickwick Papers, Oliver Twist and The Life and Adventures of Nicholas Nickleby. Lord Melbourne advised Queen Victoria against reading the work of Her Majesty's famous subject, due to the fact that Dickens' books were full of "unpleasant subjects" such as prostitutes, pickpockets, murderers and houses of ill repute. Dickens' vivid London was a place from which the good Prime Minister wished to shield his Queen.

Imagine yourself in London in Charles Dickens' time. Nearly two million Londoners, rich and poor alike, spill into the city streets among the manure left by literally thousands of horse-drawn carriages. Smoke swarms out of chimney pots and soot coats all that it falls upon. In parts of the city, raw sewage pours from the gutters into the Thames — your main water supply. If you were a common laborer, your average weekly wage was 3 shillings, 9 pence — that's approximately four dollars. With a loaf of bread costing about 2 pence a day and rent for the year costing 25 pounds (about $47 USD), you are still extraordinarily poor, however, this was a luckier existence than the very destitute who would receive aid in the form of employment in a workhouse.

From this dank and vile reality came countless Romantic literary offerings, including Dickens' A Christmas Carol. His account of mean old Ebenezer Scrooge changing his ways became essential reading during Christmas time in London, and indeed, throughout the world. Romanticism revolted against aristocratic, social, and political norms, stressing in their place the awe experienced in nature. Dickens' work denounced the moving forward of industry and lauded those unfortunate souls who fell victims to it. Those 'unpleasant subjects' that Prime Minister Melbourne was so quick to cover up became the heroes of Dickens' stories.

Melbourne's efforts were successful, at least to a point. At first the Queen turned a seemingly blind eye to the rampant pollution, severe sanitation problems and insurmountable poverty that plagued her urban subjects. Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, and finally, the dreaded cholera epidemic would ravage the streets of the destitute and the opulent alike. Although Queen Victoria would continue to have her sights set on trade and commerce and Lord Melbourne would resign his duties twice, the workers of London attempted to solve the greatest issue of their day. Toward the end of the 1850's English engineers finally brought forth a water filtering system that would end the cholera epidemic. Although the extreme indigence of London's common man would continue for years, even after Queen Victoria's death, the age would be remembered as a time of progress.

The Victorian Age was in many ways a time of profound sadness and deprivation for ordinary people. But it was also a time of discovery and expectation. It was a time that infuriated and inspired its people. While royalty guarded trade agreements and sought to expand their empires, everyday Londoners were searching for everyday chances and small kindnesses. That was Charles Dickens' London.

Dickens made sure the voices of the unfortunate were heard in his work, along with huge doses of good humor and myriad evocations of the joys of home and hearth. He continues to do the same for us today. In all of his stories, we remember that there are those less fortunate than ourselves. We remember that there are those willing to change. Most importantly, we remember that there is hope. After all, Dickens observed that "It is a fair, even-handed, noble adjustment of things, that while there is infection in disease and sorrow, there is nothing in the world so irresistibly contagious as laughter and good-humour."
CHRISTIAN BARILLAS (Undertaker/Young Ebenezer) is making his SCR debut. Over the last four decades, Mr. Took has performed over 100 roles at SCR and has seen the theatre become one of the top theatres in the United States and a vital cornerstone of the Orange County artistic community. He is proud to be a part of this 27th edition of A Christmas Carol. Happy Holidays!

PLAYWRIGHT, DIRECTOR
& DESIGNERS

JERRY PATCH (Adapter) was affiliated with South Coast Repertory from 1967-2005. He served as dramaturg on nearly 150 new plays seen and developed at SCR, including the world premieres of Abundance, Freedomland, Golden Child, Intimate Apparel, Search and Destroy and Wit. His dramatic writing has been produced at SCR and other theatres, and on television. He was project director of SCR’s Pacific Playwrights Festival from its inception in 1998 through 2005, and for seven years was Artistic Director of the theatre program of Sundance Institute. He was Professor of Theatre and Film at Long Beach City College and taught at UCI, UCSD, CSULB and other institutions. He is consulting dramaturg for the Roundabout Theatre Company in New York, and now serves as Resident Artistic Director of The Old Globe in San Diego.

JOHN-DAVID KELLER (Director) See biography on page P9.

THOMAS BUDERWITZ (Scenic Design) previously designed Bach at Leipzig, Proof, A Delicate Balance and But Not For Me for SCR. He is currently designing Pig Farm for SCR in January and The Pursuit of Happiness and The Ice Breaker both for the Laguna Playhouse in 2007. Mr. Buderwitz’ design of Pera Palas (The Theatre @ Boston Court/The Antaeus Company) won the 2006 LA Drama Critics Circle Award, Los Angeles Stage Alliance Ovation Award, LA Weekly Award and the Backstage West Garland Award for best set design. Regional/LA designs include productions for Pasadena Playhouse, Geffen Playhouse, PCPA, Denver Center Theatre Company, Arizona Theatre Company, San Diego Repertory, Portland Repertory, Acting Company of Riverside (FL), Rubicon Theatre, The Theatre @ Boston Court, International City Theatre, West Coast Ensemble, The Colony Theatre Company, A Noise Within, Falcon Theatre, Odyssey Theatre, Ricardo Montalban Theatre, 24th Street Theatre, LA Philharmonic/Disney Concert Hall, Civic Light Opera of South Bay, Court Theatre, Coast Playhouse, InterAct Theatre Company, Pacific Resident Theatre, Music Theatre of Santa Barbara, McCoy-Rigby/La Mirada Theatre, Apollo Theater (Chicago), Queens Playhouse and the Helen Hayes Center in New York. He received the 2005 L.A. Drama Critics Circle Career Achievement Award for Scenic Design. Mr. Buderwitz’ television designs include AMC’s “Sunday Morning Shootout”; National Geographic’s “Fight Science”; “Mr. Show,” “Def Comedy Jam,” “HBO Comedy Hour” and “Sketch Pad” for HBO; “Battlebots” for Comedy Central; and specials and series for ABC.
COURTNEY DeCOSKY
(Elizabeth Shelley/Fan) is making her SCR debut after having recently completed SCR’s Professional Intensive Program. Her theatre credits include Oliver, The Miracle Worker and Green Gables at Columbus Children’s Theatre; Murder in Green Meadows at Worthington Theatre; A Piece of My Heart at Warehouse Theatre; Marley’s Christmas with Jeff Goode Entertainment and Barefoot in the Park, Independence, Marley’s Ghost and The Holiday Princess Show at Rogue Theatrics, in which she is a founding member. Her film credits include Ricky is Famous, The Atheist and The Kiss.

ANDY GARZA
(Thomas Shelley). After playing in rock bands for fifteen years, Andy Garza decided to pursue his lifelong dream of becoming a professional actor. “I feel the same energy on stage and in front of the camera as I do when I play music.” In the summer of 2006 he completed SCR’s Professional Intensive Program and he is now making his SCR debut. He has been acting for only three years, however his heart and spirit as an on-stage performer is quite seasoned from his musical performance experience. His theatre credits include Lone Star, View of the Dome, Tragedy of Othello and Private Lives. His film credits include Contrast, Out of Sight and LAURA as well as other short films and television commercials.

ISAAC NIPPERT
(Puppeteer/Mr. Topper) made his SCR debut earlier this season in Nothing Sacred after having recently completed SCR’s Professional Intensive Program. He is one of three founding members of Rogue Theatrics, a theatrical production company. Theatre credits include Barefoot in the Park, The Eight: Reindeer Monologues, Marley’s Ghost, Frozen Dog, Scenescapes and The Holiday Princess Show at Rogue Theatrics; Bus Stop at the Curtain Players; Murder in Green Meadows at Worthington Theatre; and Marley’s Christmas with Jeff Goode Entertainment. His film credits include Ricky is Famous and The Kiss.

DILLON TUCKER
(Constable/Wreath Seller/Young Jacob Marley/Poulterer) is making his SCR debut after having recently completed SCR’s Professional Intensive Program. He graduated last spring from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts with the Charles Jehlinger Award for Acting and is currently a member of their company. At AADA he performed in Dear Friends, Dinner with Friends, Chekov in Yalta, MacBeth and One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest. Other shows include The Laramie Project and Tartuffe at Saddleback College and Troilus and Cressida at the London Academy of Performing Arts.
