

IN BRIEF

FOUNDING South Coast Repertory is a professional resident theatre founded in 1964 by David Emmes and Martin Benson.

VISION Creating the finest theatre in America.

LEADERSHIP SCR is led by Artistic Director David Ivers and Managing Director Paula Tomei. Its 33-member Board of Trustees is made up of community leaders from business, civic and arts backgrounds. In addition, hundreds of volunteers assist the theatre in reaching its goals, and about 2,000 individuals and businesses contribute each year to SCR's annual and endowment funds.

MISSION South Coast Repertory was founded in the belief that theatre is an art form with a unique power to illuminate the human experience. We commit ourselves to exploring urgent human and social issues of our time, and to merging literature, design, and performance in ways that test the bounds of theatre's artistic possibilities. We undertake to advance the art of theatre in the service of our community, and aim to extend that service through educational, intercultural, and community engagement programs that harmonize with our artistic mission.

FACILITY/
SEASON The David Emmes/Martin Benson Theatre Center is a three-theatre complex. Prior to the pandemic, there were six annual productions on the 507-seat Segerstrom Stage, four on the 336-seat Julianne Argyros Stage, with numerous workshops and theatre conservatory performances held in the 94-seat Nicholas Studio. In addition, the three-play family series, "Theatre for Young Audiences," produced on the Julianne Argyros Stage. The 20-21 season includes two virtual offerings and a new outdoors initiative, OUTSIDE SCR, which will feature two productions in rotating rep at the Mission San Juan Capistrano in July 2021. The Emmes/Benson Theatre Center also houses the SCR Theatre Conservatory, with office, classroom and studio space for year-round classes for children, teens, adults and acting professionals. The center opened in October 2002, following an extensive renovation and expansion of the facility. It was renamed in 2014 to honor SCR Founding Artistic Directors David Emmes and Martin Benson.

HONORS South Coast Repertory is the winner of a Tony Award for Distinguished Achievement. Margaret Edson's Wit, a play developed and premiered at SCR in 1995, received the Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1999. The 2007 Pulitzer went to the SCR commission Rabbit Hole by David Lindsay-Abaire. In 2003, SCR was named one of America's five Top Regional Theatres by TIME Magazine. SCR has been the most-honored theatre by the Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle and Drama-Logue magazine over numerous years, and won 10 Ted Schmitt Awards, annually given by the Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle to the best production of a world premiere. Two commissioned premieres—David Henry Hwang's Golden Child and José Rivera's References to Salvador Dali Make Me Hot—have gone on to win Obie Awards for writing, as did another SCR premiere, Rolin Jones' The Intelligent Design of Jenny Chow. Emmes and Benson received Lifetime Achievement Awards from both Theatre LA and the United States Institute for Theatre Technology. They also were named the recipients of the 2007-08 Margo Jones Medal. This prestigious award honors those who have demonstrated a significant impact, understanding and affirmation of the craft of playwriting, with a lifetime commitment to the encouragement of the living theatre everywhere.

AUDIENCE The 2019-20 Season had 9,399 subscribers. They were joined by an additional 33,475 single ticket holders. Due to the COVID-19 outbreak, four productions were canceled and one ended after the final preview. We have not resumed live in-person performances since we closed in March 2020.

BUDGET SCR's original FY20 $11.4 million budget had 48% of income earned from ticket sales, Conservatory tuition, concessions, and other income, with annual contributions from corporate, individual, government, and special multi-year foundation grants account for about 33%, or $3.7 million, and the balance derived from endowment earnings and reserve transfers. However, due to the 2020 pandemic situation, SCR FY20 budget was reduced to $8.6 million as was the FY21 budget with a current year-end projection of $6.3 million.

AFFILIATIONS SCR is a member of the American Arts Alliance, the League of Resident Theatres (LORT), Theatre Communications Group (TCG), Californians for the Arts and Arts Orange County.

NEW PLAY DEVELOPMENT

- PREMIERES More than 45 percent of SCR's more than 537 productions have been world, American or West Coast premieres. Among the 154 world premieres are: Wit by Margaret Edson, Prelude to a Kiss by Craig Lucas, The Piano Teacher, The Language Archive and Office Hour by Julia Cho, Intimate Apparel by Lynn Nottage, Sight Unseen, Collected Stories, Brooklyn Boy and Shipwrecked! by Donald Margulies, Golden Child by David Henry Hwang, Three Days of Rain, The Violet Hour and A Naked Girl on the Appian Way by Richard Greenberg, The Beard of Avon by Amy Freed, The Intelligent Design of Jenny Chow by Rolin Jones, Rest by Samuel D. Hunter, Vietgone and Poor Yella Rednecks by Qui Nguyen, Cambodian Rock Band by Lauren Yee and A Doll's House Part 2 by Lucas Hnath.
- THE LAB@SCR The Lab@SCR is an expansive new-play development program consisting of commissions, residencies, readings and workshops, aimed at creating new plays and musicals for the American stage and addressing the current challenges of contemporary theatre. First established as the Collaboration Laboratory (Colab) in 1984, the program was enhanced and rebranded in 2020.
- FESTIVALS The Pacific Playwrights Festival is the centerpiece of The Lab@SCR. Each year, over the course of three days, seven plays are showcased in full productions or staged readings. Spring 2019 marked the festival's 22nd year. This program was offered in an online format in 2021.
- COMMISSIONS Commissions are a key source for new plays and SCR's most effective means of supporting writers and developing long-term relationships with them. As of mid-2020, SCR has awarded a total of 333 commissions to more than 230 writers, including Amy Freed, Richard Greenberg, Nilo Cruz, David Henry Hwang, Howard Korder, Lynn Nottage, Donald Margulies, Karen Zacarías, Samuel D. Hunter, Lauren Yee and Qui Nguyen.
- RESIDENCIES Extended playwrights' residencies bring writers to SCR for the rehearsal period of each world premiere and many American or West Coast premieres, ensuring that SCR's production will realize the writer's vision.
- PLAYWRIGHTS & COMMUNITY Several initiatives have strengthened SCR's artistic engagement with its community. The CrossRoads & Commissioning Project, launched and initially funded with generous support from the Time Warner Foundation, immerses playwrights in the diversity of Orange County. Qui Nguyen's Vietgone found inspiration through photos that the playwright saw at the University of California, Irvine's, Southeast Asian Archive Center. The photos were from the Fort Chaffee, Ark., refugee camp where his parents met and fell in love. Nguyen's resulting play—developed through much work with Orange County's Vietnamese community—premiered at SCR in 2015, earned a Los Angeles Drama Critics Association Ted Schmitt Award for Best World Premiere of the Year and a prestigious Harold and Mimi Steinberg / American Theatre Critics Association Award. Other CrossRoads commissions that have been produced to date at South Coast Repertory include Orange by Aditi Brennan Kapil, Yoga Play by Dipika Guha and Cambodian Rock Band by Lauren Yee. In 2019, Yee's play earned an LADCC Ted Schmitt Award for Best World Premiere of the Year and the prestigious Harold & Mimi Steinberg/ATCA Award. A James Irvine Foundation grant supported a two-year project with the Latino residents of Santa Ana, Calif., who told their stories to playwright José Cruz González and helped him create a play inspired by the community. The Long Road Today/El Camino Largo de Hoy, premiered in 2014.
- READINGS/WORKSHOPS Play readings and workshops are an integral part of SCR's season. In addition to frequent in-house play readings, which allow the theatre's artistic staff to monitor the progress of new work, the NewSCRipts series of public play readings has brought audience members into the process since 1985. Of the first 135 plays read in the series, more than 85% have gone on to production at SCR or elsewhere.

EDUCATION & ACCESS

TDP THEATRE DISCOVERY PROJECT: High school and college students attend select performances of SCR productions, with study guides to increase understanding and appreciation of each production.

TYA THEATRE FOR YOUNG AUDIENCES AND FAMILIES: Weekday matinee performances of all shows are given free of charge to groups from Orange County schools, and SCR underwrites the cost of school buses for Title I schools with funding from foundations. Families are able to attend the shows at paid weekend performances.

ACCESS THEATRE ACCESS: Groups of underserved high school and college students and select community organizations receive free admission to shows through the Theatre Access Program.

THEATRE CONSERVATORY KIDS & TEEN ACTING CLASSES: A year-round program of actor training and performance opportunities for students ages 8-17. Programs of movement, voice and acting technique culminate in classroom demonstrations at the end of each session. An introduction to the fundamentals of acting and performance is provided through the Summer Acting Workshop. Advanced students have the opportunity to audition for the Junior, Teen or Summer Players.

ADULT ACTING & PLAYWRITING CLASSES: For students 18 years and older, SCR offers classes for all interests and levels: beginning through advanced acting training, with additional special courses offered in improvisation, playwriting, musical theatre and acting for the camera.

AIP ACTING INTENSIVE PROGRAM: An intensive seven-week summer training session designed for students pursuing a career in acting, taught by industry professionals. Coursework emphasizes acting, audition techniques, script analysis, Shakespeare, voice, improvisation and characterization.

NC NEIGHBORHOOD CONSERVATORY: This program offers free after-school drama classes to children who would otherwise be unable to participate. SCR sends its professionally trained conservatory instructors into community centers throughout Orange County to provide instruction in mime, improvisation, creative dramatics and acting.

SCHOLARSHIPS Upon teacher recommendation, students enrolled in Neighborhood Conservatory who show exceptional talent, need and interest receive full scholarships to attend Theatre Conservatory classes on-site at SCR. Full and partial scholarships are also made available to deserving students to attend the Acting Intensive Program.

TOURS & SPEAKERS SCR opens itself to the community through backstage tours of the theatre and special guest-speaking engagements by staff and artists at local groups and schools.

OUTSIDE SCR OUTSIDE SCR is a new community-based initiative. In its pilot 2021 season, we partnered with Mission San Juan Capistrano to produce two fully realized South Coast Repertory productions outdoors, under the stars in rotating repertory. Utilizing the power of our brand, our signature production values and the stature of our company, we offer a unique experience to meet the needs of the current COVID pandemic while continuing our efforts to engage more deeply with surrounding communities. The inaugural season lays the foundation for an ongoing tradition offering the opportunity for families to gather safely in the outdoors and experience world-class theatre. OUTSIDE SCR featured a “family friendly” production in concert with another full production, which celebrates the rich diversity of the Southern California community.

SCR COMMUNITY SCR commUNITY is South Coast Repertory’s new digital platform dedicated to amplifying the artists and narratives of our region by producing stories inspired by or about the rich diversity of people living in Southern California. Using “virtual/digital” platforms, SCR commUNITY creates free play readings, interviews, radio plays and original innovative content. SCR commits to engaging Southern California-based writers, actors, directors, composers, designers and other artists to collaborate on these projects that lift our community, celebrate the human kaleidoscope and ensure that all see themselves in our work.

- 1966 SCR's The Birthday Party is the first Southern California production of a play by Harold Pinter. Cecil Smith's rave review in the Los Angeles Times draws the first significant publicity to SCR.
- 1967 SCR opens its 217-seat Third Step Theatre in a converted variety store on Newport Boulevard in Costa Mesa. Schedules in both locations continue for one season before the Second Step closes.
- 1968 West Coast premiere of the politically charged America Hurrah! by Jean-Claude van Itallie.
- 1969 The Living Theatre Project becomes SCR's first community services program when it offers special student performances of Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman.
- 1970 SCR wins its first Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle (LADCC) Award for a series of productions including Arthur Kopit's Indians. SCR forms its Professional Conservatory.
- 1971 SCR's children's shows begin touring Southern California schools. SCR receives its first National Endowment for the Arts grant and its first Rockefeller Foundation grant for new plays.
- 1973 Second LADCC Award given for a season of West Coast premieres including Slawomir Mrozek's Tango, Michael Weller's Moonchildren, Friedrich Durrenmat's Play Strindberg and David Rabe's The Basic Training of Pavlo Hummel.
- 1974 SCR turns fully professional with its staging of Tom Stoppard's The Real Inspector Hound, the first SCR play produced under a League of Resident Theatres (LORT) Actors Equity Association contract. SCR forms its Young and Adult conservatories.
- 1975 Jumpers by Tom Stoppard and The National Health by Peter Nicholas extend SCR's interest in contemporary British theatre.
- 1976 SCR launches a $3.5 million building campaign to construct SCR's Fourth Step Theatre, at that time the largest fundraising effort in Orange County.
- 1977 SCR reaches 10,000 subscribers after the Third Step Theatre expands to 250 seats.
- 1978 The Fourth Step Theatre opens, attracting 17,000 subscribers. SCR's annual budget exceeds $1 million. Richard Eder, writing in The New York Times, brings favorable national attention to SCR for its production of Trevor Griffith's Comedians.
- 1979 New play development leaps forward with the introduction of playwrights' residencies—starting with The Sorrows of Frederick by Romulus Linney—and commissions. A rehearsal hall is converted into the 161-seat Second Stage, a full thrust theatre for more experimental work. The first production is A Life in the Theatre by David Mamet. SCR's playwrights commissioning program begins.
- 1980 First production of A Christmas Carol, featuring Hal Landon Jr. as Scrooge and directed by John-David Keller. The stage adaptation is done by Literary Director Jerry Patch.

- 1981 The first long-range plan includes establishing an endowment, which prompts the decade-long Challenge for Excellence Campaign, beginning with a Phase I goal of $3 million for endowment and capital.
- 1982 New play program launches five world premieres including Brothers by George Sibbald. SCR is Drama-Logue and LADCC's most-honored theatre.
- 1983 An FDG/CBS New Play grant sparks a Second Stage season of world premieres. SCR grabs the headlines by winning eight LADCC Awards for J.M. Synge's Playboy of the Western World. Second Lives augments the Educational Touring Production of Finding Home by Michael Dixon and Jerry Patch, exploring contemporary immigration in staged readings and a book.
- 1984 The 20th Anniversary Season includes premieres by Beth Henley and Keith Reddin and the American premiere of Thomas Murphy's The Gigli Concert. The season is commemorated in a commissioned poster by William Wiley. Caryl Churchill's Top Girls is the first SCR play to transfer to a commercial run.
- 1985 SCR breaks ground for a $1.5 million expansion, the Artists Center, and announces The Collaboration Laboratory (Colab), a funding and resource program for new play development to be housed in the new wing. The National Endowment for the Arts gives SCR a $350,000 Challenge Grant for Colab launching The Campaign for SCR — a five-year, $12 million campaign integrating annual, capital and endowment fundraising. The NewSCRipts play reading series is launched. SCR's West Coast premiere of Craig Lucas' Blue Window moves to Santa Monica.
- 1986 Blue Window receives the most awards given any 1985 Southern California theatre production including four LADCC Awards. The annual Hispanic Playwrights Project begins with nine playwrights from across America in town for workshops and public readings of their plays. SCR starts its Neighborhood Conservatory program. Subscriptions top 25,000; ticket sales average 95% of capacity.
- 1987 World premiere of SCR-commissioned Prelude to a Kiss by Craig Lucas.
- 1988 SCR wins the Tony Award for Outstanding Regional Theatre. Arthur Miller's The Crucible opens the 25th season, and earns eight LADCC Awards. A Fall Tour of Roy Conboy's Happy Birthday, Angel, with an anti-gang theme, tours secondary schools. SCR stages the first California Playwrights Competition.
- 1989 Appearances by Dana Ivey, Elizabeth McGovern, Joe Spano and David Schramm indicate a new level of commitment to acting excellence. David Chambers, Michael Devine and Craig Lucas become the theatre's first Associate Artists. California Play Program's second year has plays by Richard Hellesten, Octavio Solis and Shem Bitterman.
- 1990 An AT&T "New Plays for the Nineties" grant supports the premiere of Howard Korder's Search and Destroy, which wins the LADCC's first Ted Schmitt Award for best new play production. Sally Nemeth's Holy Days wins four LADCC Awards and goes on to be filmed with the SCR cast. Six writers participate in SCR's Hispanic Playwrights Project; three of the scripts are published. SCR's productions of You Never Can Tell (George Bernard Shaw) and Frankie and Johnny in the Clair de Lune (Terrence McNally) are part of the Singapore Arts Festival.
- 1991 Donald Margulies' Sight Unseen premieres. George Bernard Shaw's Heartbreak House sparks another LADCC sweep. New York theatres produce three SCR-originated plays—Sight Unseen, Howard Korder's Search and Destroy and Richard Greenberg's The Extra Man.
- 1992 SCR-commissioned Prelude to a Kiss by Craig Lucas has its film premiere.
- 1993 The 30th season marks the launch of a $7 million endowment and capital campaign, which will include funds for new off-site production facility. The fifth California Playwrights Competition brings total of submitted scripts close to 2,000. Educational Touring Production of My Mom's Dad, by Richard Hellesten and Michael Silversher, promotes generational understanding with the aid of Vietnamese phrases, characters and stories. Roger Rueff's So Many Words wins SCR's second LADCC Ted Schmitt Award.

- 1994 The Production Center opens with facilities for set construction, wardrobe and prop storage, and rehearsal space. Cecilia Fannon's Green Icebergs wins the sixth California Playwrights Competition and moves on to a successful run on the Mainstage. The world premiere of Richard Greenberg's Night and Her Stars presages another New York run of an SCR-commissioned script. Cheryl L. West's Jar the Floor sets new records before winning four NAACP Theatre Awards in LA. La Posada Mágica premieres thanks to a grant from the Lila Wallace/Reader's Digest Fund.
- 1995 The 30th season campaign successfully concludes with the largest single gift from arts patron William Gillespie. Margaret Edson's Wit receives its world premiere. It goes on to win SCR's third Ted Schmitt Award in five years. Nicky Silver's Pterodactyls wins great acclaim in a record-setting successful run. David Emmes and Martin Benson receive Lifetime Achievement Awards from the United States Institute for Theatre Technology and Theatre LA.
- 1996 SCR wins its most awards ever. Mark Rucker is named a fourth Associate Artist. Four premieres in 1996-97 season are Donald Margulies' Collected Stories, David Henry Hwang's Golden Child, a co-production with New York's Public Theater, BAFO by Tom Strellich and Richard Greenberg's Three Days of Rain. By closing, each will be sold out.
- 1997 Donald Margulies' SCR-commissioned Collected Stories wins SCR's fourth Ted Schmitt Award for a new play from LADCC and is a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for Drama. David Henry Hwang's Golden Child, an SCR commission, wins two Obie Awards. SCR's 1996-97 season subscription numbers are up, and renewals for 1997-98 top 85% on Mainstage and 90% on Second Stage.
- 1998 Three Days of Rain by Richard Greenberg wins the LADCC's Ted Schmitt Award. SCR launches a successful Pacific Playwrights Festival with theatre artists from across the country attending workshop productions and staged readings. SCR is the only theatre, and only Southern California arts group, in the first annual Irvine Foundation's Cornerstone Arts Organization program for California's exemplary arts groups, receiving $550,000 over the course of three seasons. Playwright Amy Freed and Associate Artist Mark Rucker receive residency grants from Theatre Communications Group. The Segerstrom Family donates land for facility expansion.
- 1999 A $1.26 million grant from Henry T. and Stacey Nicholas accelerates plans for expansion. Margaret Edson's Wit, an SCR premiere in 1995, wins the Pulitzer Prize for Drama.
- 2000 Donald Margulies' Dinner with Friends wins the Pulitzer Prize for Drama. The play, which benefited from an SCR production before its 1998 off-Broadway debut, is the second consecutive Pulitzer for a play developed at SCR. The Education of Randy Newman, a musical based on songs by the singer-songwriter, premieres. In October, the "SCR: The Next Stage" campaign is launched to raise $40 million in capital, endowment and annual operating funds for a renovation that will add a new 336-seat theatre and four new classrooms. The goal later increases to $50 million.
- 2001 A naming gift of $5 million for the new theatre is made by George and Julianne Argyros. Four plays premiere: David Lindsay-Abaire's Kimberly Akimbo and Amy Freed's The Beard of Avon in the 37th season, and Annie Weisman's Hold Please and Lucinda Coxon's Nostalgia in the 38th. During the summer, the fourth Pacific Playwrights Festival features California Scenarios, a commissioned site-specific Latino work set in the Noguchi Gardens.
- 2002 World premieres by Horton Foote and Joe Hortua. Amy Freed's The Beard of Avon receives five regional productions and wins SCR's sixth LADCC Ted Schmitt Award. The Paul Folino Family's $10 million naming gift is the largest single gift from an individual to an American regional theatre. The Folino Theatre Center is inaugurated on October 5. The world premiere of Richard Greenberg's The Violet Hour inaugurates the Julianne Argyros Stage.
- 2003 The sixth Pacific Playwrights Festival's two premiere productions—Lynn Nottage's Intimate Apparel and The Intelligent Design of Jenny Chow by Rolin Jones, a third-year student at Yale School of Drama—both win American Theatre Critics Association Awards, securing the festival's importance. TIME Magazine names SCR one of America's Top Five Regional Theatres. The three-play series of "Theatre for Young Audiences ... and Their Families" is launched, providing 12 free performances of each production to students in local school districts. The New York theatre season includes nine plays commissioned, developed and/or originated at SCR, including Lynn Nottage's Intimate Apparel, Donald Margulies' Sight Unseen, Richard Greenberg's The Violet Hour, Amy Freed's The Beard of Avon and Howard Korder's Sea of Tranquility.

- 2004 The largest production in SCR history is Edmond Rostand's Cyrano de Bergerac, directed by Mark Rucker and starring Mark Harelik. Amy Freed's third commissioned premiere, Safe in Hell, shares Pacific Playwrights Festival limelight with a controversial new play by 25-year-old Noah Haidle. Mr. Marmalade is Haidle's first professional production, and he is the youngest playwright ever produced at SCR; a healthy sign of youthfulness as the theatre concludes its 40th season. Theatre for Young Audiences produces the world premiere of Richard Hellesten and Michael Silversher's SCR-commissioned adaptation of Kenneth Grahame's The Wind in the Willows.
- 2005 The season includes SCR's first production to go to Broadway and an incredible five world premieres. The world premiere of Donald Margulies' Brooklyn Boy, a co-production with Manhattan Theatre Club, opens in September 2004. After SCR's staging, Brooklyn Boy made its Broadway opening at MTC's Biltmore Theatre in February 2005. In addition, Christopher Shinn's On the Mountain, Noah Haidle's Princess Marjorie, Richard Greenberg's A Naked Girl on the Appian Way and Lucinda Coxon's Vesuvius make their world premieres at SCR. A Christmas Carol celebrates 25 years as Orange County's favorite holiday tradition.
- 2006 This year features three world premieres, beginning in January with Tony Award-winner Jeff Whitty's The Further Adventures of Hedda Gabler on the Julianne Argyros Stage. A further highlight on the Argyros Stage includes the work of another film legend, when William Friedkin directs the West Coast premiere of Man from Nebraska by Tracy Letts. The world premiere of The Studio follows later in the year on the Segerstrom Stage—a unique play with dance—written, directed and choreographed by Christopher d'Amboise. The Argyros wraps up its four-play season with the world premiere of Tanya Barfield's Blue Door, a two-man drama steeped in lyrical storytelling. The Segerstrom Stage also hosts the American premiere of Terry Johnson's Hitchcock Blonde, featuring state-of-the-art film technology, as well as film legend Alfred Hitchcock reincarnated by actor Dakin Matthews.
- 2007 This is a season of milestones: SCR surpasses the 200 mark in commissions awarded; the NewSCRipts series presents its 100th public play reading; Julia Cho's The Piano Teacher is SCR's 100th world premiere; and the Pacific Playwrights Festival celebrates its 10th year by presenting seven new plays, including the latest commissioned works of Richard Greenberg, Donald Margulies and José Rivera. The 43rd season culminates with SCR's first-ever production of Shakespeare's Hamlet, directed by Tony Award-winner Daniel Sullivan.
- 2008 Two of SCR's favorite playwright collaborators bracket the season: Donald Margulies starts things off with his fourth SCR world premiere, Shipwrecked! An Entertainment, while Richard Greenberg returns for his eighth SCR world premiere, The Injured Party, anchoring the 11th annual Pacific Playwright Festival at the end of the season. Two other world premieres are Kate Robin's What They Have (Segerstrom Stage) and the musical Imagine, by Doug Cooney and David O (Theatre for Young Audiences). Another season highlight, Culture Clash in AmeriCCa, marks the return of the comedy/performance trio after a 10-year absence and is held over by popular demand. David Emmes and Martin Benson receive the prestigious Margo Jones Award for their lifetime commitment to theatre excellence.
- 2009 Among the nine subscription offerings are five world premieres, including the latest from SCR favorites Amy Freed and Richard Greenberg. The season concludes with the first major revival of Donald Margulies' Collected Stories, an SCR commission that had its world premiere on SCR's Second Stage in 1996. The book Stepping Ahead, by Larry Christon, is published, a volume that chronicles SCR's first 45 years.
- 2010 SCR produces six world premieres, including two for its Theatre for Young Audiences series. Julie Marie Myatt's The Happy Ones wins SCR its seventh LADCC Ted Schmitt Award for best Southern California new play. Shortly before its world premiere at SCR, Julia Cho's The Language Archive wins the prestigious Susan Smith Blackburn Prize for best English-language play written by a woman. A Christmas Carol celebrates its 30th anniversary, with Hal Landon Jr. once again in the role of Ebenezer Scrooge. David Emmes and Martin Benson announce plans to move into Founding Director roles and search for a new Artistic Director.

- 2011 SCR names Marc Masterson as its new Artistic Director and Co-CEO with Managing Director Paula Tomei. Emmes and Benson step into the roles of Founding Artistic Directors. The season includes two world premieres—Lauren Gunderson’s Silent Sky and Itamar Moses’ Completeness—and critically and commercially successful revivals of Shaw’s Misalliance, Shakespeare’s A Midsummer Night’s Dream and Richard Greenberg’s Three Days of Rain. SCR launches the pilot Studio Series program, which brings six of the best small, local arts organizations into the Nicholas Studio for weekend-long performances and features an SCR workshop production of Sofia Alvarez’s Between Us Chickens.
- 2012 A season that opens with a lavish production of Pride and Prejudice and closes with August Wilson’s Jitney includes the 15th Anniversary of the Pacific Playwrights Festival, with two world premiere productions, SCR’s first commissioned musical, Cloudlands by Octavio Solis and Adam Gwon, and Steven Drukman’s The Prince of Atlantis. A third world premiere is Catherine Trieschmann’s How the World Began. The newly named Studio SCR series continues with six works presented in the Nicholas Studio by small, local arts organizations, with whom SCR partners to forge new artistic relationships and expand audiences.
- 2013 SCR presents the West Coast premiere of David Henry Hwang’s Chinglish, a co-production with Berkeley Repertory Theatre; the production then tours to the Hong Kong Arts Festival. The season includes two world premieres: Beau Willimon’s The Parisian Woman (a play that went to Broadway in 2017) and Noah Haidle’s Smokefall. In a first-time collaboration, SCR, Center Theatre Group and La Jolla Playhouse present the West Coast premiere of the English-language translation of Neva by Guillermo Calderón, part of the Studio SCR series.
- 2014 SCR celebrates its 50th Season. The Gala Ball, “Theatrical Gold,” raises $3 million, thanks to a generous gift from George and Julianne Argyros. The season sees six world premieres, including SCR commissions Trudy and Max in Love by Zoe Kazan and Rest by Samuel D. Hunter. The season opens with the classic Death of a Salesman by Arthur Miller and concludes with the play that launched SCR: Moliere’s Tartuffe. In January 2014, the theatre complex was renamed The David Emmes and Martin Benson Theatre Center at the request of Paul Folino.
- 2015 The season sees three SCR-commissioned world premieres: from Theresa Rebeck (Zealot), Melissa Ross (Of Good Stock) and Rajiv Joseph (Mr. Wolf). The season opens with the magical (and musical) Shakespeare classic, The Tempest, reimagined by Aaron Posner and Teller (a co-production with The Smith Center, Las Vegas, and American Repertory Theatre); the production earns a Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle Award for illusion and magic. The season also includes a first-time international presented production, a collaboration with U.K.’s Kneehigh (Tristan & Yseult); and a first for SCR: an all-Spanish language production from Inmigrantes Teatro called Kikiricaja: Una Historia de Payasos as part of Studio SCR. A fifth SCR commission lands in the Theatre for Young Audiences series—OZ 2.5—and is the first young audience play by Catherine Trieschmann.
- 2016 A milestone season for SCR, with its 500th production (Amadeus). Four of five world premieres are SCR commissions: Vietgone by Qui Nguyen, Going to a Place where you Already Are by Bekah Brunstetter, Future Thinking by Eliza Clark and Office Hour by Julia Cho. Sandra Tsing-Loh’s The Madwoman in the Volvo also has its world premiere. Vietgone earns numerous accolades, including the Los Angeles Drama Critics’ Ted Schmitt Award for Best World Premiere of the Year and also receives the prestigious Harold and Mimi Steinberg / American Theatre Critics Association New Play Award.
- 2017 SCR’s 53rd season featured four world-premieres: The Siegel by Michael Mitnick, Flora & Ulysses by John Glore (Theatre for Young Audiences production), Yoga Play by Dipika Guha and A Doll’s House, Part 2 by Lucas Hnath. Doll’s House had nearly simultaneous productions on both coasts: the world premiere at SCR and a Broadway production that earned multiple Tony Award nominations including Best Play. A vibrant adaptation of Moby Dick from Lookingglass Theatre Company and Destiny of Desire, a telenovela-for-stage from Karen Zacarias (co-production with Chicago’s Goodman Theatre) were also featured. The Pacific Playwrights

Festival marked its 20th year by welcoming large and appreciative audiences for four readings and three full productions, along with publication of a second play anthology volume. Vietgone by Qui Nguyen earned a Lucille Lortel Award in New York for Outstanding Projection Design.

- 2018 The season is marked by six world premieres including Curve of Departure by Rachel Bonds (with an immediate second production at Washington, D.C.'s Studio Theatre); SHREW! by Amy Freed; Little Black Shadows by Kemp Powers; and Cambodian Rock Band by Lauren Yee (with second and third productions announced for 2019 at Victory Gardens Theatre in Chicago and Oregon Shakespeare Festival in Ashland). The Theatre for Young Audiences production, Amos & Boris, is another world premiere. Artistic Director Marc Masterson steps down in July and a national search is conducted for his successor.
- 2019 In September 2018, David Ivers is named as SCR's fourth Artistic Director, to co-lead the theatre with Paula Tomei, Managing Director. Tomei receives the Helena Modjeska Cultural Legacy Award for lifetime achievement in the arts. Three new plays were included in 55th season—including Poor Yella Rednecks by Qui Nguyen, Sheepdog by Kevin Artigue and a co-world premiere Theatre for Young Audiences show, Nate the Great by John Maclay and Brett Ryback. The 12-show season also saw the return of classics including Sense and Sensibility and our first production of Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street. Lauren Yee's SCR-commissioned Cambodian Rock Band earns the prestigious Harold and Mimi Steingberg /American Theatre Critics Association Award that recognizes playwrights for the best script that premiered professionally outside New York City. Five staged readings, including a concert-reading of a new musical adapted from Craig Lucas' Prelude to a Kiss, and two full productions are featured during the 22nd Pacific Playwrights Festival.
- 2020 A new era of leadership begins with Artistic Director David Ivers and Managing Director Paula Tomei. SCR enhances community engagement beginning with American Mariachi by Jose Cruz Gonzalez—with mariachi bands from throughout the region performing live on Ela's Terrace, before most performances. The season includes the world premiere of The Canadians by Adam Bock, Aubergine by Julia Cho, Fireflies by Donja R. Love, the musical She Loves Me, which marked Ivers' directorial debut as artistic director, two Theatre for Young Audiences productions as well as the 40th anniversary production of A Christmas Carol—the final bow for Hal Landon Jr. (Scrooge) and John-David Keller (director). A surprise $5 million gift from Julianne Argyros includes funding to mount a new production of A Christmas Carol. In March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic forced the theatre to close and cancel the remaining shows of the season, along with the Pacific Playwrights Festival. With in-person theatre no longer possible, SCR launched SCR commUNITY, a new digital theatre initiative dedicated to amplifying the artists and narratives of our region.
- 2021 With the pandemic continuing, the 2020-21 season was canceled and replaced with a Spring/Summer 2021 season containing a mix of streaming video performances and live outdoor theatre. The Conservatory adapted its classes to be delivered online and eventually returning to in-person classes. During the hiatus from live in-person performances, SCR turned its attention a variety of digital engagement initiatives as part of the SCR commUNITY series. Among them a video series of playwright interviews, titles, #Commissioned and an audio recording of Founding Artist Richard Doyle reading A Christmas Carol, which was provided free to the public through YouTube and aired on 89.3 KPCC on Christmas eve. In 2021, we offered a Spring/Summer season, that ran from April through August, and included a digital Theatre for Young Audiences family show, Red Riding Hood by Allison Gregory (offered free to Orange County public schools); five professionally filmed readings for the Pacific Playwrights Festival, including works by Dan Collins and Julianne Wick Davis (Harold & Lillian); Shayan Lotfi (Park-e Laleh); Charlie Oh (Coleman '72, directed by Artistic Director David Ivers); Christine Quintana (Clean); and York Walker (Covenant). In July and August, the new summer series Outside SCR debuted with performances of American Mariachi by José Cruz González and You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown live, under the stars, at the historic Mission San Juan Capistrano.

PREMIERES

South Coast Repertory's mission to develop plays traces back to its second season, when Ian Bernard's Chocolates was premiered in 1966. At the end of the 2019-20 season, 155 plays have debuted on our stages, many of them commissioned by SCR.
